2011 Winter Lecture Series

Three Presentations Planned, Including Our First German Language Lecture

The introduction of cultural lectures this past year has proven to be the most popular program that the Museum has ever produced. We are pleased to continue with this program, leading off with three new presentations during the winter season, including our first program in German.

On Sunday, January 30th, Mr. Jim Egbert, the Cultural Director of Hofbräuhaus Newport, will speak on "Growing up Plattdeutsch in Northern Ohio." This will highlight German customs and traditions in northern Germany, as well as the Low German dialect spoken in Ohio.

Our second lecture follows on Sunday, February 27th. Mr Brian Becker, brewing historian, will speak on "Prohibition: The Noble Experiment in the Queen City." This will focus on what Prohibition was like and its impact on the brewing industry and beer culture in the area, as well as how it continues to affect us today.

Sunday, March 27th, brings us our first lecture in German! Mr. Manfred Schnetzer, First Vice-President of the German-American Citizens League, will speak on "Euere Opfer brachten uns Freiheit." This will be a German-language lecture about growing up in postwar Germany from the perspective of a German immigrant.

All presentations will be held on the second floor of the museum, and begin at 2:00 PM. We hope to see you there!

The German Pioneer is the official newsletter of the German Heritage Museum of Greater Cincinnati. The museum is administered by the German-American Citizens League (GACL). The German Heritage Museum serves as a focal point in presenting and displaying German-American culture. This museum is the first of its kind in the region and a testament to the many contributions German immigrants and their descendants have made in the growth of the Ohio Valley and America. The museum focuses especially on representing the history of German-Americans in the Greater Cincinnati area, which became and remains one of the major German-American centers in the United States. In addition, displays showcase the activities of the organizations currently under the umbrella of the German-American Citizens' League of Greater Cincinnati.

Bockfest "Continental Sunday" To Honor Cincinnati's German Heritage

Bockfest, Cincinnati's unique spring celebration, is now 20 years old! Originally begun as a celebration and promotion for craft beer, Bockfest has evolved into a major community event focused on highlighting Cincinnati's unique German heritage, including our strong brewing history. The festival occurs on the first weekend of March, starting this year on Friday, March 4th, and continuing through Sunday, with several additional preliminary events. While the complete schedule can be found on the Bockfest website (including a wonderful collection of cultural and historical information), some of the highlights for the German-American community include:

Wednesday, March 4: Bock Tapping, at Mecklenburg Gardens, 5:00 to 10:00 PM. This evening features the first tapping of this year's Schoenling Bock, as well as availability of several additional bock beers, and includes a German buffet dinner.

Friday, March 6th: Bockfest Parade, stepping off at 6:00 PM. Starting at Arnold's, Cincinnati's oldest saloon, the parade route leads through Over-the-Rhine, finishing at Bockfest Hall (1619 Moore St.), which is also the new home of the Christian Moerlein Brewery. Look for the participation of many of our region's German-American organizations, perhaps including you! New this year will be a parade award, sponsored by the German-American Citizens League, for the society with the most members in tracht.

Saturday features the availability of two walking tours. The Prohibition Resistance Tours, sponsored by the Brewery District CURC explores Cincinnati's unique brewing heritage, both above and below ground. Past tours have included visits to pre-Prohibition breweries such as Clyffside, Kauffman, Crown, and Jackson, where we visited brewing spaces and lagering cellars and tunnels deep below the street. The Over-the-Rhine Foundation will present their popular Church Tours. This walking tour explores several of Over-the-Rhine's most important sacred spaces. Past tours have included visits to Old Saint Mary's (Cincinnati's oldest church), Saint Trinity (the home of German Methodism in America), and Saint Francis Seraph (including the basement graveyard).

Continental Sunday will feature a full slate of German entertainment and culture. The day starts at 11:00, with German Mass at Old St. Mary's Church. After a stop in the church rathskeller, the free shuttles move to Bockfest Hall. At the Hall, Sunday is full of traditional German dancing, variety shows, and music, along with tours, authors, steins, and breweriana.

Continental Sunday at Bockfest Hall also includes a German buffet and $1 off beer to everyone in tracht (wearing traditional German dress). The schedule includes:

- 1:30P-2:30P - Polka Dots
- 2:30P-3:00P - Enzian Tanzgruppe
- 3:00P-3:30P - Germania Jagdhorn Group
- 3:30P-4:30P - Polka Dots
- 4:30P-5:00P - Donauschwaben Schuhplattlers
- 5:00P-7:00P - Vereins Musikanten

Museum Baumeister Honored as Parade Marshall

This year, the German-American Citizens League, partners in Bockfest organizing, have voted to elect Gottfried Schlembach as Bockfest Parade Marshal 2011. Born in Schweinfurt in Oberfranken, Germany, Gottfried came to America in 1950 and first lived at the Kolping Haus on Republic (formerly Bremen) Street in Over-the-Rhine. A well-known master craftsman, he now serves as Baumeister for your German Heritage Museum. He also has served five terms as president of the Liberty Home German Society and belongs to the Kolping Saengerchor. His wife Josephine has also been active in the German-American community, belonging many years to the Deutsch-Amerikanischer Frauenstadtverband (the German-American Women's League). Gottfried Schlembach epitomizes the German immigrant success story in Cincinnati and one that began in Over-the-Rhine.

St. Nikolaus Day at the Museum

St. Nikolaus made his annual visit to The German Heritage Museum on Sunday, December 5th. In addition to having St. Nikolaus greet children of every age, those in attendance were treated to songs from the Germania Singers and the Kinderchor of the Fairview German Language School, under the direction of Katie Hofmann. Although the day was chilly, the blanket of fresh snow created a wonderful setting for this celebration! Fortunately, the hot chocolate and kuchen helped take the edge off the weather.
